

Asward Alhassan is a Ghanaian businessman, farmer, Development Manager and a Management Information System Expert born at Tamale in the Northern Region of Ghana on March 4, 1986.

The Tamale boy began schooling trying to catch up with his peers at his early age. Asward Alhassan had a lot of challenges during his educational process but he managed to pass through with good grades.

Having closed the door on Northern School of Business (SHS), he proceeded to University for Development Studies then on to Ghana Institute of Management and Public Administration (GIMPA).

He holds a Diploma in Development Management and BSc Development Management both in the University for Development Studies. He furthered to Ghana Institute of Management and Public Administration (GIMPA) where he studied Post Graduate Diploma in Management Information System (MIS).

He worked at Sakoya Wood-Works & Construction LTD as a Site Engineer. He also worked at MTN Ghana as Mobile Money Marketing Agent and He is currently a Management Information System Officer at Ghana Free Zones Authority and also the Managing Director at A. Sterling Enterprise from December 2017 till date.

Asward is currently single.